Serious Organised Crime and a View from Inside the NCA

Friday, 2 November 2018 10:00 - 16:00

The Open University, Milton Keynes. MK7 6AA,
Michael Young Building, Rooms 1-3, (lower ground floor)

Maps and Directions: http://www.open.ac.uk/about/estates/travel-advice/directions-walton-hall-campus#

Supported by The British Society of Criminology’s Policing Network and The Open University’s HERC/PaRNeT

This exciting one day conference will explore the way serious organisedcrime is being tackled at various different levels from the local to the global. Papers and presentations will cover a variety of diverse and interesting types of crime and policing responses.

We are pleased to announce our conference keynote speaker will be a senior member of the National Crime Agency with operational experience

Confirmed speakers:

Dr Anna Sergi (University of Essex)

Dr Adam Edwards (Cardiff University)

Dr Sarah Hutton (The Open University)

Detective Chief Inspector Darran Hill, (Specialist Operations, Thames Valley Police)

(Further speakers and titles of contributions will be confirmed in due course)

Convenors: Louise Westmarland, Professor of Criminology, e-mail: louise.westmarland@open.ac.uk and Steve Conway, Lecturer in Policing Organisation and Practice, Faculty of Business & Law, e-mail: steve.conway@open.ac.uk

Please register on line via the Harm and Evidence Research Collaborative website:-
REGITER
http://www.open.ac.uk/researchcentres/herc/events/serious-organised-crime-and-view-inside-nca http://www.open.ac.uk/researchcentres/herc/

If you have any queries regarding registration please contact Sarah Batt, Assistant (Research), e-mail: FASS-Collaborations@open.ac.uk